

Our Town

Weather Man

When we were kids and had advanced to the book-reading stage of learning, there was always a thrill in recounting the legend of the little Dutch boy who stuck his chubby finger into the hole in the dike and held it there overnight, thereby saving his beloved homeland from a disastrous flood. Maybe not nearly so thrilling, but just as intriguing should be the story of the gray dawn of last Monday morning. The crowning events of what had been a weather-perfect Grayling winter sports season were history, by less than a dozen hours, when old Jack Frost did a flip-flop, coming over on night with a thaw of prodigious proportions.

For the program makers the timing was perfect. But the extent and suddenness of the thaw should make it legendary, that in 1948 a bonafide weatherman, emulating the heroic Dutch boy, held the adverse elements at bay with the split-second timing and valor of Superman.

In Retrospect
As a spectacle the 1948 Carnival was a success. This winter's program as a whole enjoyed a certain amount of popularity. To date it has been a rather limited popularity that at times hardly seemed to justify the amount of promotional effort expended. Considering its extensive layout the Grayling park is currently suspect of lagging in tourist appeal.

Pioneer as a winter playground center, Grayling appears to be gradually yielding much of its popularity. To begin with the competition is a lot keener. One nearby competitor recently enjoyed the biggest single success of the season, when a snow storm bringing over 400 patrons arrived on a Sunday. The trick was in publicity, a factor which is proving a weak point in the Grayling setup.

Apparently well-justified criticism, most of which followed the annual Carnival activities, is pointed at the local organization which to all appearances has been working at cross purposes. It is no secret that there has been an unusual amount of bickering. The construction work done at organized meetings has, on occasions, been upset by follow-up get-togethers of smaller groups. There have been resignations and threats to resign among the committees, the largely the outgrowth of the inability of members to have their own way.

This general lack of unity is best illustrated in an incident which occurred early in plans for the 1948 season. There had been definite agreement at a committee meeting as to the prices to be charged for the various admissions at the park. Accordingly, the Chamber of Commerce answered a lot of inquiries in a form letter sent to prospective tourists. Some 300 of these letters were sent out.

Shortly after, and quite accidentally, it came to the attention of the responsible Chamber of Commerce members that the price structure had been considerably altered. There followed the usual "cock-bagging" of the tourists actually appeared and let it be known in no uncertain terms what their reactions were.

If this is the age of miracles, quite possible the popularity of Grayling winter park is being carried through on the momentum of its previous popularity. It is a question of how well a million-dollar proposition can be pushed to fruition by haphazard organization.

Inflation and the Goose
The average tourist, even the little man, isn't a penny-pincher. Allowances often are made for the little extras that come with travel. After all, traveling for fun is done with extra funds. One is able to put aside from time to time. Merchants like tourists. Tourists like merchants, sometimes, but never the ones who glibly quote inflationary prices when strange faces appear at the counter.

It would take a stretch of the imagination to classify as tourist the young people, mostly teenagers, who have been dropping in to Grayling over recent weeks to enjoy winter sports. These kids don't have much money. Many of them are holding their first jobs. They leave for home usually with a return ticket and no cash. They travel on small margins.

Nonetheless, these same youngsters are letting it be known in no uncertain terms that they resent being victimized by the blown-up prices, particularly at the lunch restaurants and lunch counters. A number of the grown-ups, too, have little good to say for some of these business places.

Following the more recent protests, sampling surveys made in local eating places revealed some unreasonable price fluctuations. Possibly these price jumps are necessary in the offending restaurants, if for no other reason than the fact that they serve a lot of one-time customers.

Prices at the park's snack bar are badly enough out of line, without making visitors take the added rap.

It takes no great feat of marksmanship to "kill the goose that lays the golden egg."

Michelson Memorial Church School Notes

Sunday school attendance showed a gain again after being in the seventies for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Harry Souder is a welcome addition to the down state Sunday school, acting as a much needed director of music. Mrs. Harvey Rowland was a substitute in the third grade and Mrs. Ted Thompson taught the pre-kindergarten group. Achievement day and family night will be March 10, so keep that date open.

Green Wave Drops Another One

Face Harbor Here Tomorrow Night

The Grayling Green Wave returns to their home floor tomorrow night to face Harbor Springs in next to the last game of the season after losing at East Jordan last Friday night. A three game road trip again proved disastrous to Grayling as they lost games to East Jordan, Boyne City and Manistowic.

On Friday, February 27, Grayling meets Pellston in the season's final contest with the High School District cage tourney opening here on March 4 and running through March 6.

At East Jordan, the Wave was unable to hit the mesh and consequently dropped the ball game by a 41-28 score. The Wave scored on 10 of 60 field goal attempts while East Jordan came through on 13 out of 50. The Jordanians also came in on 15 out of 21 free throws while the Grayling lads could only make 8 points out of 30 gratis-shots. Robinson of East Jordan made 8 out of 8 on the free throw line to add to his 4 field goals for a total count of 18 to lead the victors.

Chuck Feldhauser led the Wave's scoring with 9 points with Max Niederer adding 7 and Dick Miller and Dick Eichel adding each. Jim Feldhauser, Clare Burns and Jerry Smock each added a free throw. Grayling led at the end of the first quarter by 8 to 7 and held their lead at half time as each quintet scored six points in the second period. In the third heat, East Jordan made 12 points to the locals 7 and in the last quarter scored 16 to the Wave's 6, as Chuck Feldhauser left the game via the foul route.

The Grayling reserves took a drubbing as East Jordan swished the meshes for 35 points to the losers 18. East Jordan has a new hot reserve squad having defeated and doubled the score on Boyne City and Charlevoix, two of the loop's best second teams.

Barring the victors with 10 points while Jack Trudeau paced the 18 with 6. Jack Trudeau scored 4 and Owens 3.

The new bleachers, which have been on order for sometime, have finally arrived and will be ready for use tomorrow night. They will make a considerable addition to facilities for the coming tournament.

In other loop contests this past week Gaylord defeated Harbor Springs 40 to 21, and then lost to Pellston by a 30 to 25 count. Charlevoix dropped Pellston 53 to 7 and Harbor Springs 57 to 24. Manistowic defeated East Jordan, 44 to 29.

Kubs, Ramblers Win Cage Tourney
Roscommon Entries Finish Powerfully

Roscommon made a clean sweep of the Grayling Invitational Independent Basketball tournament here Friday night as the Kelsey Kubs sewed up Class C with a 39-37 victory over Pinconning and the Ramblers dropped the Grayling Legion 48 to 28 to capture the Class D Crown.

Reminiscent of last year's tourney was the play of the losers in both classes in the final games, the Kubs, as last year, showed slipped form in the final contest after playing good headsup ball in the semi-finals. Pinconning, likewise, took the place of last year's finalist Traverse City in slipping off form as much as 50 per cent in view of their previous games.

Pinconning trailing 14 to 3 after the first quarter came back strong in the second period to pull up to 17 to 20 at half time. During the third period they moved one point nearer a tie as the quarter ended with the Kubs 28, Pinconning 26. At the end of the fourth period, Pinconning came through to tie up the game 36 all. In the following overtime, the Kubs slipped in three points to Pinconning's one to win the game going away. The Kubs were playing without two of their first five men in the game, Earl Haight, regular guard was with his school team, and Ken Ostling was sidelined with an injured shoulder.

The Legion gave the Ramblers a dingdong battle during the first half with the victors enjoying but a 10 lead at halftime. The Ramblers, however, came back with a powerful second half offensive drive that the local boys could not halt.

Leaves On Extended European Trip

John Bruun of Grayling left Sunday night on the midnight Detroit-bound train for an extended trip in Europe.

He will travel by boat on this trip there and expects to fly home arriving back in the United States about April 15. Besides visiting his family and friends in Denmark, he expects to travel in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Sweden and the American occupied zone of Germany.

Mr. Bruun, who before the war made a trip to Europe about every other year, will be visiting his family for the first time in about 8 or 9 years.

Woman's Club

Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Alfred Sorenson, Monday evening. Election of officers was held with the following officers elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. William N. Watny; first vice president, Mrs. Leonard Allison; second vice president, Mrs. Ray Clement; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Joseph; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Roberts; treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Phelps.

Reports from several committees were heard and voted upon, after which the meeting was turned over to the program committee.

Since the meeting was to be an old-fashioned school, each member came dressed as a school girl, and some very interesting costumes were displayed. Teams were chosen for a "spelling bee" which proved to be lots of fun.

The next meeting will be held March 6th, at the home of Mrs. Holger Peterson, at which time each member is asked to bring a "white elephant" for an auction sale.

President Thanks Carnival Workers

"A Thank You"
To all who worked and co-operated with the Grayling Winter Sports Park, Inc. in sponsoring our winter program this winter and our Carnival. It is impossible and unnecessary to go into all the many jobs that were a part of the promotion and staging of our winter program and carnival.

To all the other folks who so generously gave of their time, their homes and money and good advice and counsel to the workers at the Park who worked under difficult conditions to keep the Park in the best possible condition.

And last, but far from least, to the "Old Man" who really gave our program a fine break throughout the winter and right through the Carnival till the very last minute.

Harold Cliff, President, Grayling Winter Sports Park, Inc.

Local Firm Enters National Advertising Field With Campaign

A Dore WIRO-MATIC cuts up to 200 ft. of wire per minute—perfectly straight and to lengths of 6 inches to 20 feet within a tolerance of plus or minus .001".

There are three main reasons a Dore WIRO-MATIC maintains such production speed: Dore clutch is actuated instantly by a micro-switch and solenoid, and its engaging rollers never slip or wear. Clutch knife cuts wire on both forward and reverse stroke. Shuttle bar receives new wire while it discharges cut stock.

Other WIRO-MATIC features include easily accessible splicer dies which are in plain view; reversible double grooved feed rolls; steel core V-belts; dies available to handle every type wire; welded steel construction. • These Dore WIRO-MATIC Models available for 30 to 60 day delivery. Model A for wire .040" to .315" dia., Model B for wire .120" to .250" dia., and Model C for wire .120" to .315" dia. • Write for catalogue of WIRO-MATICS, reels, wire trucks, rotary straighteners, and special wire working machinery.

Entering the National advertising field with an advertising campaign, the Dore Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Grayling is not only advertising its wire machine products, but is highlighting the major attractions of its home community and area in a really fine public relations job for Grayling.

The above-pictured advertisement was printed full page size in two colors in four nationally circulated trade magazines. The Dore company's ad was carried by Cleveland, Ohio; Iron Age and American Machinist, both of New York, and Wire and Wire Products, of Stamford, Conn. It is the second in a series of advertisements which will feature local attractions in sports and scenery. Response to the advertising campaign are very gratifying, Maurice E. Dore, company president said.

Edwin LeButt handles the advertising and promotional material for the company with Seeman and Peters, Inc., of Saginaw, acting as advertising agents.

The company, whose stockholders besides Mr. Dore are John Bruun, James Hodgson, Charles Long, Charles Moore and Wilhelm Rane, now boasts a complete distributorship which covers the entire United States. The huge foreign market has already been tapped with many foreign firms requesting the distributorship for Dore Company products in their respective countries.

Engineering has been completed and experimental tests are nearly done on several new types of wire working products. They will soon be offered on the market. One of the machines is capable of making 120,000 cuts per hour in delivering wire in short lengths, it was said.

Crowned In Elaborate Ceremony By Michigan Captain Bruce Hilkene

Teammate Dick Rifenberg Assists In Coronation

Captain Bruce Hilkene of the University of Michigan's championship football eleven brought the 23rd Annual Grayling Winter Sports Carnival to a colorful climax shortly after 2 P. M. last Sunday afternoon when he placed a golden crown on the head of lovely 17-year-old Diane DeMay, Ogemaw Hills Winter Queen, who had been named as Miss Michigan Winter Queen following a complimentary luncheon Saturday noon.

The star-studded crown, signifying her ascension to the coveted role, was placed on her blonde head by Captain Hilkene. Assisting Hilkene in the ritual was his teammate, Dick Rifenberg, of Saginaw.

The ceremony, held at the park's magnificent throne, began with a royal procession of Queen Diane's court of honor from the warming shelter, across the skating rink to the throne. Led by the Grayling High School Band and preceded by 10-year-old Diane Baker, young Grayling skater bearing the royal crown, Queen Diane and her attendants, riding in a sleigh, were pulled across the rink by members of the courts of the Grayling and Bay City Winter Queens.

Mounting to the throne along with Miss June Simms, of Detroit, 1947 Michigan Winter Queen, the new sovereign was formally installed.

A fitted leather traveling bag and a complete archery outfit, consisting of a bow, a dozen arrows and a quiver were presented to the new Michigan Queen by Hilkene as gifts from Grayling Winter Sports Inc., sponsor of the carnival.

Her attendants were winter queens from eight other northwestern Michigan communities, seven of whom vied Saturday with Miss DeMay for the honor. They were Jane Lantz, of Houghton Lake, Roscommon County Winter Queen; Betty Cooper, of East Tawas; Silver Valley Winter Queen; Jean Schutt, Bay City Winter Queen; Geneva Avery, Grayling Winter Queen; Patricia Sangster, Cheboygan Winter Queen; Barbara Heinke, Alpena Winter Queen; Gladys Rabedeau, Lewisport Winter Sports Queen; and Joan Jeffries, Harrison Winter Sports Queen. Miss Nancy Cox, 1947-Grayling Winter Queen also was present. The Queens were introduced by Larry Frymire, program director of radio station WKAR at East Lansing.

Following the coronation rites for Grayling archers, sleds, curling, Robert Meaker, Fred Bear and Frank Scott demonstrated their skill with the bow and arrow. Heavy traffic at the park and all snow parks' facilities were in charge of members of the Grayling Winter Sports Inc. and Grayling Sportsmen's Club, working under the direction of Harold Cliff, president of the winter sports' organization.

Their efficiency was attested to by the fact no serious accidents were reported.

Mrs. C. G. Clippert was in charge of the queen's committee and of coronation rites at the park. Attendance at the park on Sunday for winter sports activities and the coronation was well over 5,000 with a week end attendance approaching 12,000.

Arriving at the winter sports park by snow train, snow bus caravan, and hundreds of private cars, guests witnessed elaborate pagentry, exhibitions by skilled skiers, skaters, tobogganists, and archers, and participated themselves in events which concluded the three-day run of the 23rd annual Grayling carnival.

Temperatures dropped to 12 degrees below zero Saturday night. Sunday morning snow and gray skies greeted early arrivals. Shortly before noon, however, the weatherman relented and a bright sun came from behind clouds and the mercury shot up to 32 degrees to make conditions ideal for the afternoon program.

Four of the six toboggan slides were in operation and a fresh fall of snow made for splendid skiing, saddle-ski riding, snow shoeing and other out-of-door sports.

The first snow train to visit Grayling this season arrived here shortly before noon, its 10 coaches filled with 527 Walther League members from Saginaw and Bay City. Big trucks furnished by local residents carried the Saginaw Valley residents to the park and returned them here late in the afternoon in time for a 5:30 o'clock departure.

Five snow busses also carried several hundred Detroiters here. Private automobiles filled the available parking space at the winter sports layout as local and down state residents arrived to participate in the festivities.

Formally launched Friday evening with a perch dinner and finals in the Grayling Independent Basketball tourney, a second-day activities started early Saturday morning at the winter sports area near here.

Included on the morning program were preliminary events in ski and skating contests and a general program of winter sports for down state guests. Conditions at the park were ideal with a fall of fresh snow putting a two-inch deep fluffy blanket over 10 inches that was on the ground. Temperatures ranged around 15 degrees above zero at 10 o'clock.

A Queen's luncheon was held at the Shoppenagons Inn at noon on Saturday with the visiting queens and courts the guests of Mrs. Isabel Cassidy, hotel owner. Visitors acted as judges in selecting Miss DeMay as the Michigan Winter Queen of 1948. Glenn MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times acted as toastmaster, introducing the contestants and providing much luncheon guests. Harold Cliff, president of the Grayling Winter Sports Park Inc., acted as chairman at the luncheon. Miss Margaret Bauman was in charge of the affair.

Judges included Larry Frymire, program director of East Lansing's radio station WKAR, of Lansing; James Hodgson, industrial engineer, of Birmingham; and Edward Dulong, state editor of The Times, of Bay City.

Mrs. Wilma Ludeman acted as hostess at a Saturday evening dinner for the queen candidates, and was in charge of a smorgasbord for carnival visitors.

The Queen's Hall, underway at 9 o'clock, attracted a gay throng of guests and townspeople to the school's gymnasium. Roland Servis, and a U. of M. dance band, provided music. Judge Ray F. Clement was chairman of the ball.

A trumpet fanfare at 10:30 o'clock announced time of selection, with Frymire introducing candidates to the dancers. Last to be named was Miss DeMay, who was introduced as 1948 Michigan Winter Queen amid rounds of applause.

The coronation ceremonies Sunday were followed by a party for the visiting queens, celebrities and participants of the coronation. The party was tendered by the Grayling Winter Sports Park, Inc., and was held at the home of Judge and Mrs. Clement.

Captain Bruce Hilkene filled in for Coach Herbert O. "Fritz" Crisler, who was called unexpectedly to Chicago and was unable to attend the coronation.

Also here though not officially were the 1941 Pontiac Queen Gloria Hoyt, and the 1947 Pontiac Queen Joyce Capogna. Both young ladies were fine figure skaters, the former carrying off the honors in that contest.

Final rites were held at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Sorenson Funeral Home and at 2 at the Frederic Bible Church for Robert Bigham, 22-year-old Frederic veteran who died from a self-inflicted rifle bullet wound Saturday night.

Burial was in the Frederic Cemetery. Rev. R. C. Puffer officiated with Mrs. C. G. Clippert and Mrs. Amy Gotro furnishing special music for the services.

pallbearers were John Madill, Gene and Bob Kaiser, Allen Leng, Frank Madill and John Harmer. Mrs. Jesse Wardlow of Saginaw and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bigham of Grayling were present for the funeral.

According to investigating officers, Bigham sent the bullet from a 30-30 rifle into his head while his father, Jack Bigham, was in an adjoining room of their home. Death was instantaneous according to Crawford County Coroner Stanley Stealy, of Grayling, who ruled the death a suicide.

Mr. Bigham served with the U. S. armed forces in the Pacific Theater as a paratrooper. He was discharged from the army about two years ago.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bigham; and a brother, John.

presented the Kubs and Rambler squad members with individual gold medals of their victories. The Phantoms moved into the finals via victories over Oscoda and West Branch. They easily turned back Oscoda, 59 to 31 on Tuesday night and came back Thursday night to whip the vaunted West Branch producers 52 to 39, in a white hot battle all way till the final minutes. The Roscommon Kelsey Kubs worked their way to the final Class C game by dropping the Gaylor Eagles easily, 53 to 27, and then turning on the heat to just edge the Keggers, 59 to 36.

The Roscommon Ramblers moved into the Class D final game by turning back Atlanta, 51 to 28, and the Houghton Lake Merchants, 50 to 40. The Grayling Legion won the right to play for the Class D headpiece by squeaking past the Pinconning Reserves the first night by a 31 to 27 count and avalanching Hillman on Thursday night by a 44 to 29. Outstanding players during the tourney in Class C were: Captain Danny Horn of Pinconning, Twist Oliver of West Branch, Sandy Thompson of the Keggers and Ralph Ostling and Chuck Hinman of the Kelsey Kubs. The play of Ross Thompson of the Grayling Legion, Eldon Ballou of the Roscommon Ramblers, Tom Hughes of Houghton Lake Merchants, Norm McDonald of Hillman and Dick Cornell of the Houghton Lake G. I.'s was outstanding in Class D competition. The tournament was filled with excitement from opening whistle on Tuesday night till the final horn on Friday evening. Officials was excellent, being handled by Ray Templeton, Pat Martin with Willard Cornell filling in. From every angle it was a fine independent basketball tourney except for the gate. The crowd was rather light the first three night of the tournament but showed a marked improvement on Friday evening.

Myrton Burrows, Kegger manager and Ross Thompson, Grayling Legion manager thanked all for their co-operation which brought an excellent tourney again to Grayling.

Free Ride For You—on the Freedom Train!

We had a real thrill in Our Town just the other day—when the Freedom Train stopped by! You've heard about it, of course—an actual train that's touring the country to remind us again what true Democracy means. It carries such Americans as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and other immortal documents that guarantee every citizen his liberty. A great idea! And from where I sit, we're all riding along with that Freedom Train—right now—by liveing in a country that protects our individual liberties—whether they apply to our right to vote, to choose our church, to speak our minds, or enjoy a glass of beer with friends. Only thing is—we've got to prove ourselves worthy of the ride... by guarding zealously against whatever forces of intolerance encroach upon our American concepts of live-and-let-live, in a free and strong Democracy!

Are We Ready to Sell Out?

Continued inflation promises to make price control the number one domestic political issue of the year. The controversy over price control is in some respects similar to the acrimonious debate over how to prevent the spread of communism in Europe. Economic security is emphasized as the foundation of faith in the institution of democratic government. The fear is prevalent that the people of the United States, as well as the people of Europe, will abandon their faith if confronted with the appalling instability of uncontrolled inflation and disruption of traditional material values. This approach is tragically false. It denied the existence of ideals and principles which set man apart from the lower animals. It is resulting in proposals that here in our own country will wipe out freedom even before the pinch of postwar dislocations are really felt. These proposals would involve extension of governmental activity and authority on a scale that would irreparably injure the cause of human freedom for which countless hundreds of thousands of American citizens have given their lives, from the revolutionary war to the present.

During the next year, campaign promises and demagogic speeches will be the order of the day. If there is one thing above all others of which we must be wary, it is schemes to combat inflation which undermine representative government by empowering a centralized government to "direct" the productive activities of the people. Even if such devices could control inflation — and history has proved they can't — the price would still be too high.

We should remember during this coming year that the dignity of the individual measured in terms of personal freedom from political coercion of any sort, is priceless. It cannot be traded, bought or compromised, either in Europe or in the United States. It can be preserved only so long as people continue to give it a higher value than any other possession—including life itself.

FOCHTMAN'S

... enjoy the hobby of woodworking with popular-priced, Delta-made Homecraft Power Tools

Here you have the makings of fun, healthful relaxation, pleasure for the whole family. Homecraft Power Tools take the work out of woodworking. You can make many things — useful, attractive things — quickly and easily. Homecraft tools are designed specifically for the average home shop, where they are given intermittent use.

They are built by the makers of famous Delta Power Tools, leaders in accuracy, safety, and dependability. Delta tools are widely used in industry, in schools, in home shops. In fact, a Delta-equipped shop is usually the goal of the hobbyist who wants the last word in heavy-duty quality.

In order to meet the needs of hobbyists who do not require heavier tools, Delta has created the Homecraft line. Here is your opportunity to start or expand your shop at modest cost — with tools that give real value for your money.

this and other fashion trends in McCall's for February.

"The youngest thing in spring suits is the one with the wide, wide skirt and the short, short jacket. One such suit has a short jacket with a flouncy hipline. It should adorn only the smallest of waists. The drop shoulders are padded roundly, not squarely, and not thickly either. The skirt has a three-yard whirl at the hemline.

"The short jacket is of first importance to the very youthful suit for spring. And when a jacket is very short, the skirt is very wide. The flared skirt of one suit zooms out to more than three yards at the hem and that, incidentally, is the best of the new wide widths, having a nice whirl but not being outrageously bulky. The jacket has a little flirt of a flare at the hips, just to make things interesting from the rear.

"Another suit has just about everything that a girl could wish for in a suit; a new neckline—the shawl collar, a new kind of fit in the jacket—12 narrow panels, a tiny waistline, a busty ripple, and a back flare in the skirt. A sophisticated, elegant suit number is just the thing for gabardine or faille or satin. This backward dip of the jacket is important. It's in the waist and in the peplum both. The skirt is slim, as it should be with such a jacket.

"The low flare is a new fashion, combining with long slim lines to make a new silhouette. A dress that illustrates this, there are actually two flounces—one for ripple, and an under one, in taffeta, for rustle. A tunic is a nice way to get a low flare. The unusual thing about a tunic is that you get two silhouettes in one. In one design the tunic produces a flared line, the underskirt a slim one. Many people find this way of wearing a flare easier on the figure."

To Round Out That Meatless Lenten Menu Try the Following Recipes

Quick Pan Rolls

1/3 cup shortening
3/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup lukewarm water
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 pkgs. quick acting yeast
1 egg
Melted butter or margarine.

Grease a 12" x 8" baking dish or pan. Melt shortening. Let cool to lukewarm. Sift and measure flour. Add shortening to lukewarm water, sugar and salt in large mixing bowl. Add yeast; then mash with wooden spoon, until completely dissolved. Beat egg slightly with a fork; stir into yeast mixture. Gradually add flour, stirring until all flour is really mixed in. Turn out on lightly floured or cloth-covered board. Roll to fit pan. Set dough in pan; cut rolls with scissors. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Cover with a towel. Let rise in warm place (80 F. to 85 F.) until double in bulk, about 30 minutes. Bake in hot oven, 425 F., 20 minutes. Makes 36 small rolls.

Other hints: When you add flour, add a bit at a time, stirring until all the flour is mixed in well. Like all dough for rolls, it is soft. Use floured rolling pin and a light touch to work dough

HONOR SYSTEM . . . In Japan, because of currency inflation, public telephones are fed paper money instead of coins. The caller is on his honor because operators have no way of knowing whether money has been deposited.

This Is The New Trout Stamp

Michigan will collect a "stamp tax" from trout fishermen this year, a special one dollar license fee.

Stamps must be affixed by resident and nonresident trout fishermen alike to the general rod licenses which are issued to persons who fish in Michigan inland waters. Money obtained from sale of the stamps will be used for trout propagation and planting.

Michigan is believed to be the first state to use the stamp method of license fee collection, although the Federal Government has been selling "duck stamps" to wildfowlers for a number of years.

Distributors of fishing licenses will sell the "trout stamps" which are banknote-engraved and printed in green ink. Stamp collectors are showing interest in the new issue.

The trout season opens April 24, ends September 12. The stamps go on sale March 15.

Baked Custard With Cherry Sauce

3 cups milk
3 eggs
4 1/2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
Few grains salt

Nutmeg
Get your oven going, 350 F. or moderate. Heat milk over low heat until skin form on top, but do not boil. Beat eggs up with a fork. Beat in everything, milk last. Pour into 4-custard cups and sprinkle with nutmeg. Set cups in a shallow pan that has been filled with hot water to a depth of about 1-inch. Bake about 40 minutes. They're done when a small thin knife comes out clean and shiny. Serve cool with cherry sauce.

Cherry sauce. Mix thoroughly 2 teaspoons cornstarch and 2/3 cup of cherry juice from a can of sour pitted red cherries. Add 3 tablespoons of sugar, a dash of cinnamon and a pinch of salt. Bring to boiling point, stirring all the while. When mixture is clear and thickened, add 1/2 cup of cherries. Cool.

Orange Custard In Meringue Shell

is as thick as mayonnaise. Beat egg yolks slightly (save egg whites for meringue) and pour milk mixture over eggs. Put mixture back over boiling water and cook, this time stirring constantly, 3 minutes. Add orange rind. Chill.

Meringue Shell. Slow baking is the secret of a fine meringue, so set your oven at 300 F. before you start your egg whites. Beat 5 egg whites until stiff but not dry. Professionals call this "wet," which means the eggs are stiff enough to hold their shape but not stiff enough to cling to bowl when it is tipped. Beat in a pinch of salt, then 2/3 cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time. This makes a very stiff, thick mixture.

Cover bottom of pie pan with meringue and spoon remainder around side of pan. Bake a full hour. Then turn off oven, open the door. Cool meringue in oven to prevent shrinking. Just before dinner pour chilled custard into the meringue shell and arrange peeled orange slices on top.

SHORT STORY

Victory For a Moment

By M. J. COLLINS

THE old ground hog was uneasy. Every few seconds he would stand upright, his bright eyes searching continually for the ever expected danger from some quarter. Each time the close scrutiny satisfied her and she would drop down and resume greedily eating the tender leaves of the young red clover. She was thin and shaggy. The three young groundhogs, eating the clover even more greedily than she, were the reason. This was the first time she had brought them up from the soft nest deep in the earth. The young ones revelled in the warm sunshine and the strange world that they were eating. They ranged farther away from their mother and the safety of the burrow unaware that danger lurked nearby.

A couple of noisy crows winged their way overhead but the old groundhog didn't pay them the slightest attention. She knew they weren't hawks who would bring death winging swiftly out of the sky for her young. She was getting full, yet she ate on, her stomach starting to swell. A familiar sound jerked her upright and little quivers of deathly fear lanced through her small brain. The dog, her implacable enemy, was bounding down the field. He saw the red-chested groundhog and raced toward her. With a shrill whistle she scurried towards her burrow, her brood close at her rump. As her young nuzzled, the shrill yapping of the dog penetrated clearly to her. "Listen to that fool pup yapping! His head off down by the creek. Hasn't got a brain in his head. Never be as good as his mother." The eternally looking woman leaned in the cabin door, ready to find fault with anything.

"Yeah," her husband answered slowly. "She was all right, too bad she had to get killed on the railroad. Maybe I should get the 22 and go down and see what he's up to. If there's any groundhogs down there they'll be eating the heart out of the young crows."

"I'll go down, Dad," their young son cried. He grabbed a stick. "Bet he's got a big one cornered down there."

YOUNG Ted ran along by the stump fence until he reached the clover field. Climbing up on a stump he could see the pup down at the other end near the creek jumping around a small stonepile and barking furiously.

"Bet he has one," he said aloud and started to run.

"What you got, Tip?" Dropping on his stomach, he could see a groundhog crouched in between the safety of two large stones. Ted poked his stick in as far as he could but the groundhog only retreated further.

"See him! Get him out, Tip," he urged the excited pup.

"Guess we'll have to move some of these stones for you. Watch out now, or you'll get hurt. Ted began throwing stones. "Watch him, Tip." The pup saw the young groundhog and pounced on it savagely. For a few seconds he had a

Ted, the pup worried it but effected far enough out to be safe from those snapping teeth.

Suddenly the pup darted in and grabbed the groundhog by the back of the neck and shook him vigorously. The young groundhog gave a frightened little whistle.

Then something all snapping teeth, large and frightening, came tearing at the pup out of nowhere. Long sharp fangs sank cruelly into his rump. With a terrified yelp he dropped his victim and hightailed it for the house.

Herding the groggy, frightened young one ahead of her, the old groundhog disappeared down the burrow with a mocking, triumphant whistle.
